That's got to hurt

July Black Tie Boxing

After more than ten years the Club's bi-annual Black Tie Boxing seems to have lost none of its appeal, if the crowd bursting out of the Tattersalls Room on Friday 2nd July is any guide. Close to 350 dinner suited members and guests enjoyed the flawless formula of great amateur boxing, close seating and generous servings of fine food, great beer and great wine.

The Club has worked hard to keep these core promises in place while always tinkering around the edges to keep the event as fresh as possible.

In addition to committeeman MC Andrew Coorey presenting some tried and tested comic gems (and some new clichés as well), Tatts member Vince Sorrenti assisted with a couple of tremendous comic renditions which took the laughter level up several notches.

The night was never allowed to stagnate and the quick fire auction of only two items was boosted by raffles and lucky door prizes like boxes of Penfolds Grange, and limousine to the deciding Origin league fixture. Congratulations to winners Martin McConnell, Brad Kean, Arian Silvia and Will Ellis.

The centre of the night remains, as always, the boxing and six high standard bouts were presented. With every seat at Tatts as good as ringside members were left in no doubt that this is the hardest game in town and no fighter was without obvious courage. We hope that the Club's support makes a difference to these lads.

Finally, thanks to Simon, Renata and their team for their awesome efforts and indeed to Tooheys and Wynns Estate who help us help amateur boxing in NSW.

See you there again, 26th November.

Young Members Boutique Beer and Sparkling Evening

After the successful Belgium Beer tasting night, it was time to follow up with the tasting of some quality ale from our own backyard. Members and their guests enjoyed a generous mix of fine tasting beers and magnificent food.

Andrew Coorey kept the night flowing and we were fortunate to have him introduce the beer from Sharers Little Brewery including Sharers Lager and Burragorang Bock.

The Director of the Bondi Beer Company Dean Brunne gave the crowd a fascinating background on his latest releases the Bondi Blonde and Bondi Red. It was great to gain a Canadian perspective on our popular Aussie beers.

We also had the pleasure of Christian Gibson delivering some brewing background on the Surefoot Stout and Mount Macedon Ale. The Jansz Premium Cuvee was the popular choice for the ladies.

The night was not without its winners taking home t-shirts, and two beer and wine hampers drawn from the raffle and lucky door prize.

We look forward to seeing you at our next young members night.
